“Leverage Newforma Project Center to promote repeatable best practices across project teams and between offices.”

HOK offices; London, United Kingdom

Challenges?

- Everybody worked out his or her own system to manage project information and deliver projects.
- Email was not integrated with project delivery workflows.
- Filed email was hard to find.
- Electronic redlining software had failed to catch on.
- FTP was difficult to set up, manage and use.
- Archived knowledge was impractical to retrieve.

Results?

- Easy to use, flexible software to address each of the challenges above is making it practical and acceptable to implement repeatable best practices across the firm.
