“Newforma paid for itself within two weeks of implementation.”

The Cumberland Hotel; London, United Kingdom

Challenges?

- Emails were disconnected from project files.
- Team members were challenged to locate information within emails and their attachments.

Results?

- Email is accessible alongside all other project information.
- It's now easy to find, within seconds, all emails, attachments and other project files that contain references to specific words and phrases.
- Quick, thorough access to information helps resolve disputes or substantiate claims that can easily cost more than the price of implementing the software.
