“We can retrieve email that answers questions quickly—even if that email was generated by another project team member—often while the client is still on the phone.”

Challenges?

- Make filing as easy as dragging and dropping email alongside other project documents.
- Instantaneously find filed email.

Results?

- The filing of email is drag-and-drop simple.
- It's easy for project team members to find the information they are looking for.
- It's easy for architects to conform to ZGF policies of limiting Outlook mailbox sizes.
