“We wanted to solve problems around storage and backup and email. The Newforma solution solves those problems with one package.”

Mount Baker Light Rail Station; Seattle, Washington

Challenges?

- Project information is at risk of being buried in massive amounts of emails, submittals and drawings.
- Emails need to be filed and retrieved with ease.
- Sharing files requires a system easier than FTP, which consumes information technology resources.
- Files need to be easy to find regardless of their location.

Results?

- Email is easy to file and find.
- Email can be accessed by anyone on the project team.
- The software indexes content on the firm's servers for fast search and retrieval.
- Archived projects are just as accessible as current work.
